

King George VI - Coronation Issue.

The abdication of King Edward VIII on 11th December 1936, and accession to the throne of his brother, the Duke of York, caused a severe headache for the General Post Office. The date for the Coronation of King Edward VIII, 12th May 1937, was kept for King George VI, which left very little time to prepare and issue a new set of definitive stamps, and if possible a special commemorative stamp to celebrate the Coronation.

Eric Gill was invited to explore possible ideas for a commemorative issue, but only for a single value which was deemed achievable in such a short space of time. However, Eric Gill's design (shown below) was rejected in favour of a design by Edmund Dulac.

Designer - Edmund Dulac (1882-1953). Born in France, he was educated in Toulouse, and Paris. He moved to London in 1904, and became a naturalized British citizen in 1912. As well as designing Postage Stamps, he was also a Book Illustrator, Stage Designer, and Artist.

This essay, submitted by Eric Gill, was unsuccessful, although elements of the design are echoed in the selected design by Edmund Dulac.
